ISW HELSINKI 2012
SPECIAL

Welcome to Finland and congratulations for the great choice. This is going to be awesome trip, but unfortunately I am not attending to this trip, because I am in Latvia in the same time. Surely, we will meet in the GMB-event. That magazine contains very important information and tips, that you will need, if you want to survive in Finland nature - DO NOT LOSE THIS MAGAZINE !!

I hope that you will enjoy the trip and meet a lot of great people of our guild.

Here is some tips how to survive in our wonderful land:

First the very important note: Drunk as much as possible! That is the one way to get along with the arctic nature.

Second one: You have to go in the sauna as often as possible. And remember to roll in the snow, because it is so fun.

Third of tips: If you see a polar bear, RUN FOR YOUR LIFE!

And the last one is very important to know of Finnish people!

Do not speak to anyone, IN ANY CASE!

Have a nice trip!

chairman's GREETINGS

Howdy, travellers!

It's lovely to have you all here! Welcome to Finland - the land of ice, snow and northern lights. On Sunday we'll celebrate the beginning of the International Student Week (ISW) Helsinki with having a toga party in the famous Otaniemi sauna called Gorsu and on Monday we'll kickstart our journey. I hope you are well prepared and ready - ISW Helsinki is incredible this year and every year!

The week will be full of Finnish traditions, for example sauna, beer and snow - well, lots of snow! And beer! We'll also visit four Finnish companies related to mining and metallurgy and have interesting presentations as well as tasty food and drinks. Most importantly, I wish we all meet lots of new, fantastic and international people and make unforgettable memories. Don't mind if you don't remember all of it, though. ;) For some, this is a once-in-a-lifetime-experience, and all in all, this journey only lasts four days - so let's make the best of our time together!

This year we'll head to Western Finland: Hämeenlinna, Tampere, Kokkola and Parainen. At this point, I need to warn you of Swedes, seals and lost polar bears. I also need to remind you of a few things:

NO SLEEPING IN THE BUS!

NO RIGHT HAND DRINKING! (...or we'll sing "Drink it down to the bottom!")

DO NOT EAT YELLOW SNOW!

Although it's lovingly refreshing to dive in the snow after sauna, just to make safe: do not fall asleep in it. And you must take good care of hydration while having sauna! Finally, if you find a hole in the ice, don't hesitate to dip in!

I hope you enjoy the awesome week and have more fun than ever together with other like-minded, crazy travellers.

Let the journey begin!

TRADITIONAL FINNISH GAMES

“POLAR BEAR RUN”

As you might have figured out all finnish games are very simple and this one makes no exception. What you need is a stick and a polar bear. Possibly a hospital and a funeral home to go along.

First find a polar bear and a stick. Poke the polar bear with the stick untill it get's annoyed or even irritated. When the polar bear starts coming at you STOP poking and run like hell. If you can outrun the polarbear you'll be the person of the day and you'll get one more story to tell to your grandchildren. If you can't...

Well, you won't make a beautiful corpse.

Please notice that running in snow is very difficult.

“TURPAKÄRJÄT”

This is one of my personal favourites but it's fairly hard to learn so pay attention as you read through the directions. For this game you need a bar and a hot dog stand. Make sure that the hot dog stand is fairly close to the bar. You can always disguise a wall or build your own hot dog stand lookalike. First wait untill the bar closes and a queue starts forming in front of the hot dog stand. Then start randomly picking a fight with the people on the queue. Try getting as many people irritated as possible.

The winner is the one who gets most people to fight. You can range the time limit according to your own abilities. In five minute game you have to get the whole queue irritated at the same time in order to get a decent score.

Designated driver

This game comes in handy when the party is over and it's time to head back home. Gather everyone to a circle and open up a bottle of any kind of booze you can find. Now everyone in the circle must take a sip and pass the bottle to the next person on the left. The person that takes the last sip from the bottle is declared the winner and gets to be the one who drives everyone home.

”DON'T COME BACK FROM THE SAME HOLE!”

This game needs 2-30 players. The idea of this game is very simple: You dive in to the lake through a hole in the ice, but DON'T COME BACK FROM THE SAME HOLE.

First make several holes on the ice then start diving. The starting hole will then be sealed off. Winner is the one who manages to stay alive.

OBS! On the most simple version there can be many winners.

For a more challenging dip you can:

- a) Be seriously wasted, which means at least 0.2 prosent blood alcohol level.
 - b) Have only one hole open. All other holes are sealed off.
 - c) Make hole distances exceptionally long. At least over 30 meters.
 - d) Dive with a bag of concrete.
 - e) Have your hands tied with your ankles.
 - f) Play the sudden death mode. Only the first one out gets out.
 - g) Do playoffs. Dive head to head with sudden death rules until there is only the winner left.
 - h) Do all the above
- Don't be a nerd! Just play!!!

“KILLER PENGUIN BASH”

Unlike all the other games listed, this one is exceptionally easy. For the basic rule game you only need a flock of penguins and you might want to bring along a basic club or hockey stick. It's just a question of preferences.

When you find the killer penguin flock start bashing!

You might want to set a time trial of 2-5 minutes and see how many penguins you can bash. As an alternative you can find out who kills 50-100 penguins the fastest. Note that the killer penguins will not doubt to fight back, so safety goggles or sun glasses are advisable.

If you find penguins too hard to handle, you can practise with bashing a seal or two.

PLAY ALL THE GAMES!!

FINNISH DRINKS

Koskenkorva bitter

2 bottles of Koskenkorva vodka
1 wife

Mix Koskenkorva with stomach fluids. Let the slight aroma rise into midbrain and then warm yourself in sauna. When you return, lift your voice gently.

Start yelling to your wife, beat her and wait for the neighbours to call the police.

Note, you can get some extra bitter flavour when trying to resist arresting.

Kyllikki Saare's Suohauta

1/3 Jallu
1/3 Minttuviina
Mix and drink.

Kahviplörö

2 cl Koskenkorva vodka

Mix Koskenkorva gently into coffee without spilling. Taste. If it tastes horrible, put some more Koskenkorva into it. You might have to do this more than once. Enjoy with good or bad company.

Note, this noble drink is best suited after waking up in horrible hangover.

Arctic Circle1

3 or 4 lime pieces or slices

1-2 teaspoons of sugar With a muddling stick, crush slices of lime with sugar in a short highball glass. Add Finlandia and fill glass with crushed ice. Stir and garnish with lime wedge.

Ice-cold beer

1. Make sure it's really cold outside, like really cold.
2. Place a can of beer on a table or some other stationary surface.
3. Guard the beer for an hour or two, so that no thirsty miner will drink it.
4. Open.
5. Wait for the Spring.

Sauna

Sauna is a typical Finnish building with the purpose of making people sweat and feel uncomfortable. Sauna is where you scorch your back with hot steam in an often inhumanly small space with too much men and too few women in it. Sauna is the culmination of Finnish attitude - when you haven't got anything useful to do, go do something stupid. Like drink too much, or start a meaningless fight with a random guy you've never seen before or go sit in a room that is too hot. Or, preferably, a combination of all of these.

Typical modern sauna has multiple wooden benches (Germans used to try steel...) at different heights and an oven on the floor. The oven, "kiuas", has rocks on top of it and water is thrown on them when the place doesn't feel hot enough. If the boiling steam isn't enough you can whip yourself with branches of birch tied together. You can also do this to a friend, they'd obviously do the same for you too!

Nowadays most of the urban saunas are electric, although a true Finn prefers a wood-heated sauna typically found in summer houses and countryside. The additional work to get the room warm is a pleasure you can't get with an electric oven where you merely turn a switch to heat up the sauna. If you wish to still add some to the experience, you may want to try out a traditional smoke sauna. Perfect if you also want to have your eyes watering dry and a hard time breathing.

After you're done dehydrating yourself in the sauna, you usually want to cool off a little. This is commonly done by running into a freezing-cold lake or in the absence of one rolling naked in the snow. Due to lakes being thickly frozen for most of the

TIPS & PREPARATIONS:

- take atleast a 6-pack (12-pack [= "mäyräkoira, mäyris"] recommended) of beer or cider to drink (after drinking the 6- or 12-pack use the container as a hat)
- a packet of sausages to eat (don't forget to take strong mustard with you)
- a towel (and some shampoo etc. for cleaning)
- when throwing a lot of water to the stove [= "kiuas"] it can be easier to breath through your mouth or if necessary by holding your hands in front of your mouth, but this is commonly seen as a weakness.
- if it's too cold yell "LISÄÄ LÖYLYÄ!" or get back in the sauna.
- if it's too hot yell "LISÄÄ LÖYLYÄ!"
- don't sit on the stove when it's hot (i wonder why..)
- in the winter first remember to actually make a hole to the ice before jumping in the lake.

year, breaking a hole through the surface makes for a nice exercise as well. After you've cooled off one way or another, you go back to the sauna even if just to show you haven't learned anything yet. Now, the real reason behind all this is to give Finns an excuse for our favorite, and mostly only, hobby – drinking. You probably have a beer or two before you go to sauna, then a few inside just to hopelessly try to cool off a little and then some afterwards to quench the thirst. When you repeat the process enough it doesn't take long to get into a fancy happy mood. Drinking and sauna actually go so hand in hand that it's often hard to distinguish one from another. In common day talk the two are almost synonymous which might confuse an outsider at first. To shed a little light on the subject, below is a little example of a typical conversation between a married couple, with what they truly mean in parentheses:

Husband: I'm going to sauna tonight.
("Gonna get wasted tonight.")

Wife: Ok. Have fun!
("If you throw up on the floor when you get back, I'll feed you to the dogs.")

Pretty simple when you get the hang of it.

Where did sauna come from then? Originally it was just a place to get clean and warm. But due to the rarity of both of these, the ancestral Finns grew to worship sauna houses as holy places. Sauna elf was a spirit you had to keep happy or it'd burn down your sauna and both the newborn and dead were kept there. For an ancient Finn, bathing in sauna was truly being one with spirits. It might be so nowadays too, but mostly in a different meaning.

PERVERTS OF SOCIETY

We're the perverts of society.
We're the worst you've ever seen.
We're a bunch of loud mouthed

We're the mining engineers.

fucked to death by an engineer.
We're the perverts ...

WALKING DOWN THE CA- NAL STREET

Walking down the Canal Street,

I finally found a whore,
she was small and thin.
God damn, son of a bitch,
I couldn't get it in.

God damn, son of a bitch,
I couldn't get it out.
I finally got it out,

Wild Rover

I've been a wild rover for many a year,
and I've spent all my money on whisky and beer.
But now I'm returning with gold
in great score,
and I never shall play the wild
rover no more.
And it's no nay never,
no nay never no more
will I play the wild rover.
No never no more.
I went to an alehouse, I used to
frequent,
and I told the landlady my money
was spent.
I asked for credit, she answered
me nay.
This custom like yours I can get any day.
I pulled from my pocket two sovereigns bright,
and the landlady's legs opened
wide with delight.
Whisky I have sir, and wines of the best.

The words that I spoke, they were only in jest.
I went to a shithouse I used to
frequent,
and I told the attendant my money was spent.
I asked him politely to open the door, he said:
"Not fucking, not likely, you shit
on the floor."
I've been a wild rover for most of my life,
now I'll settle down and I'll take me a wife.
I'll build a long cabin, keep the wolf from the door,
and I never will play the wild rover no more.
